2 CONTESTS OVER MINNESOTA PRIMARY VOTE

HALLAM REFUSES TO ADMIT DEFEAT BY THOS. SCHALL

SCHALL CLAIMS LEAD OF 600 FOR G. O. P. SENATORIAL NOMINATION

TOM DAVIS' LEAD OF 1,000 CONTESTED BY OPPONENT, FLOYD OLSON

(By United Press)
St. Paul, June 19.—Two contests over the vote in the Minnesota primary of Monday appeared certain today.

With only a few precincts missing, Representative Thomas D. Schall, blind Minneapolis congressman, had a lead of 600 over Judge Oscar Hallam for the republican nomination for U. S. Senator. Judge Hallam refused to concede defeat, and intimated he would contest the election.

Tom Davis had a lead of only 1,000 over Floyd Olson for the farmer-labor nomination for governor and Olson refused to concede the election. There were less than 200 precincts missing.

NO CERTAINTY ON ELECTION TILL CANVASS IS MADE

St. Paul, June 19.—The republican nominee for U. S. senator cannot be known until the vote is canvassed, Judge Oscar Hallam said late today, refusing to concede to Congressman Thomas D. Schall, who held a narrow margin over him with unofficial count almost complete.

With only 92 precincts missing out of 3546 in the state, Schall had a lead of 530 votes. The vote stood: Schall 81510, Hallam 80980.

The farmer-labor gubernatorial situation also was still in doubt. Tom Davis still held lead of close to 2,000 over Floyd Olson, Hennepin county attorney, with 133 precincts yet to be counted. The vote was: Davis 49,519, Olson 47,882.

LAW EXCLUDING JAP IMMIGRANTS IS A FINAL ONE

EXECUTIVE BRANCH WILL NOT TRY TO SUPERSEDE IT

GIST OF SECRETARY HUGHES' NOTE TO JAPAN MADE PUBLIC

(By United Press)
Washington, June 19.—The American government has decided that the law excluding Japanese immigrants from the United States beginning July 1 is final and no attempt will be made by the executive branch of the government to supersede it.

This is the "keynote" of the reply of Secretary of State Hughes to the recent Japanese protest against the exclusion law. The reply was made public last night. It is particularly significant in connection with the belief in some quarters that the two governments would negotiate a treaty to override the law.

ALLEGED PROFITEERING IN GASOLINE PROBED

Washington, June 19.—The Federal Trade Commission's report on alleged profiteering on gasoline, made at the request of President Coolidge, has been laid before the department of justice for appropriate action.

This course is believed to foreshadow anti-trust prosecutions as it is being carefully studied by August Seymour, assistant attorney general in charge of anti-trust prosecutions.

New York, June 19.—With the present Madison Square Garden about to be torn down to give way to a new skyscraper, Tex Rickard has announced purchase of property for a new $3,000,000 garden within six blocks of Times Square. The new arena will have a seating capacity of 25,000.

POISON GAS FAILS TO BREAK THE FILIBUSTER

DEADLOCK ON THE RHODE ISLAND STATE SENATE

ONE REPORTER WAS OVERCOME BY THE POISON FUMES

Providence, R. I., June 19.—What is believed to have been poison gas was used today in an attempt to break the filibuster in the Rhode Island state senate which has been in continuous session since 2 p. m. Tuesday.

The deadlock is due to democratic insistence that republican members vote on a constitutional convention before the annual appropriation bill is passed and the senate adjourns. The chair refuses to recognize the republicans.

Fist fights, rioting on a small scale and humorous scenes such as when the speaker, Lieutenant Governor Toupin, democrat, was shaved as he sat in the chair, have marked the long drawn out battle of wills, but today the climax was reached with the introduction of gas into the chamber.

About 7:45 a. m. those senators who were awake after the long night noticed a strong odor of gas permeating the room. One by one they started coughing, but none left the room.

A few minutes later a reporter sitting at the press table near the rostrum fell over unconscious. Lieutenant Governor Toupin, swaying on his feet, his head drooping, saved himself from falling. Two men ran from the chamber, crying for assistance and doctors.

Governor Flynn, who was in his office at the time, dashed into the senate chamber. He peered about the rostrum and sniffed the air, looking about the chair, and finally found a bundle of wet papers under the lieutenant governor's chair. Without waiting to investigate what he had found, Governor Flynn ran from the chamber, dropping the papers in the corridor.

They smelled strongly of what was believed to be chlorine gas, and chemists were sent for to analyze the liquid with which they had been soaked. Several senators complained they were nearly overcome by the fumes, but the filibuster continued without interruption.

The senate continued in deadlocked session while Governor Flynn and Lieutenant Governor Toupin began an investigation to determine who had placed the gas under the speaker's seat.

After the uproar had subsided, it was found that four senators were overcome by the gas and all of those in the room were made ill.

Two senators were taken to the Rhode Island Hospital suffering from the effects of the gas.

Two others were carried from the chamber and revived in the corridor.

GIRL, 4, FALLS ON SCISSORS; BLADES PIERCE HER NECK

Minneapolis, June 19.—After cutting paper dolls on the lawn, 4-year-old Iris Gudn, 4139 Wentworth ave., ran to the house yesterday to show her mother.

She tripped, fell and the point of the scissors pierced her neck, breaking off a piece of the blade.

Physicians at general hospital removed the steel and took her home, where she is recovering.

NEW NATIONAL FARMER-LABOR THIRD PARTY

SET GOING WITH COMMUNISTS IN POSITION OF POWER

LA FOLLETTE TO REPUDIATE ANY ENDORSEMENT BY CONVENTION

(By United Press)
Convention Hall, St. Paul, June 19.—A new national farmer-labor third party—with the communists in a position of power—was finally set going here today.

Organizers of the convention, which was called to solidify the farmer and workers movements, acceded to the communists all differences and thus avoided the breach which threatened to break up the convention.

The action was accomplished by the creation of a national committee of the new party, in which the communists will have at least equal representation.

Word From LaFollette

Along with this development came unofficial word from Robert M. LaFollette that he would repudiate any endorsement by the convention and refuse its presidential nomination if it were tendered. This word was so emphatic that leaders of both conservative and communist forces indicated the scheduled endorsement of LaFollette might be held up and left to the discretion of the new national committee.

Selection of a substitute candidate would be the job of the committee, which was created by convention leaders late last night without a dissenting vote. Several names may be suggested and held in abeyance by the committee until it is seen whether LaFollette will run.

National Committee

The national committee will be composed of 96 members, two from each state and two representatives from the Workers' Party, the Federated farmer-labor party and other such communist parties as may desire to enter besides those who will be represented on the state delegations.

The only battle remaining is over the question of a platform. This is expected to be settled before night so that the convention may adjourn. The national committee will then launch a national campaign.

Formation of the party was made possible by the recession of William Mahoney, organizer of the convention, and his group of farmers.

Mahoney Militant

Mahoney had threatened to walk out of the door if the communists gained the upper hand, but he accepted a "compromise," under which the communists obtained positions on the national committee and wrote a portion of their principles into the platform.

Regarding public ownership, the platform says: "Nationalization of all large industries, such as mines, super-power plants, means of communication and transportation, must be accomplished. Organization of the workers in these industries for participation in the management and direction of the industries nationalized, until industry comes under control of those who produce the wealth of the nation."

Other Platform Planks

Repeal of the Federal Reserve and National Bank acts and government ownership of all banking institutions; abolition of court injunctions in labor disputes; an eight-hour day; a child labor amendment, with education by the government of all children under 16 years old; a minimum wage; social insurance and pensions for which funds are to be raised by higher surtaxes; maternity insurance by the government for one month before childbirth until one month afterwards; loans to farmers in time of distress; equal rights for negroes; payment of salaries by the government to unemployed, the money to be

ENGLISH PRIME MINISTER DEFENDS CUMMINS' COURSE

(By United Press)
London, June 19.—Prime Minister MacDonald, speaking in the house of commons this afternoon, vigorously defended the actions of H. Cunard Cummins, British diplomatic representative in Mexico City, whose expulsion has been ordered by the Mexican government.

"Cummins has made diplomatic representations to which the Mexican government objected," MacDonald said.

"This government cannot see anything objectionable in them."

"If the foreign offices of the world started objecting to such communications there would be no diplomatic relations."

PARTY AVOIDS ENDORSING SENATOR LA FOLLETTE

Convention Hall, St. Paul, June 19.—The national farmer-labor third party convention, in its closing session, today avoided endorsement of Senator Robert M. LaFollette as a presidential candidate.

A majority report from the nominations committee leaving the question of a presidential and vice-presidential candidate to the national committee was adopted by an overwhelming majority after a brief but spirited fight.

Farmer-labor delegates joined with communists for adoption of that plan.

"We can swing behind LaFollette later if he runs," William Mahoney, farmer-labor leader who previously had fought for endorsement of LaFollette, declared. "Why should we invite him to slap us in the face again?"

"He doesn't want our endorsement and he should not have it," declared Morris Fromme of Wisconsin, representing communist sentiment, told the convention.

Judging from the applause, those who were out for endorsement of LaFollette were in a small minority.

A minority report was presented by delegate Taylor of Kansas, declaring "we favor LaFollette for the presidency." This was greeted with silence and Taylor said: "I suppose you will rip me up the back."

When Taylor read the report a delegate from Kansas jumped to his feet and shouted: "Why don't you consult the workers' delegates in the Kansas delegation before you make a report like that?"

"I consulted the farmers in the delegation and I don't take orders from you," Taylor hurled back.

LaFollette was ripped up and down the back by communist speakers.

LaFollette Only Interested in LaFollette

Ben Gitlow, New York representative of the Federated farmer-labor party—a communist organization—declared during the debate that "LaFollette is not interested in the workers of this country—he is interested only in Senator LaFollette."

This was met by wild applause from delegates.

"Who was it played into the hands of the plunderbunds of Wall Street?" Gitlow shouted. "Who was it who deserted workers and permitted exploitation of their earnings? It was Senator LaFollette."

Delegate Stanley Clark of Missouri introduced a substitute for both reports asking LaFollette to run as the candidate of the party and on the platform with the communist principles adopted last night.

"LaFollette wants to dominate the workers," Gitlow declared, concerning the Clark proposal. "Make him take our platform if he wants our support. Make him our servant and not our leader."

Mahoney in explanation of his position, declared "We don't want to do anything to embarrass him or us. If we endorse him we have been in-

STATE POLICE PATROL TOWN OF BRADY, W. VA.

STRIKING MINERS HAD BATTLED COAL COMPANY GUARDS

UNION HALL DESTROYED BY FIRE, MINERS' HOMES RIDDLED

(By United Press)
Morgantown, W. Va., June 19.—State police today patrolled Brady, a little mining town in the mountains near here, following a battle between striking miners and company guards of the Brady, Warner Coal company.

One man was injured in the firing which lasted from midnight until 3 a. m. today. The union hall was destroyed by fire and many of the miners' homes were riddled with bullets.

Four blasts of dynamite rocked the town and between 500 and 600 shots were exchanged between the strikers and guards. Women and children in the company houses were forced to seek refuge in cellars to escape the hail of bullets that tore through the flimsy structures.

formed that he would tomorrow send out another letter denouncing us.

"If we adhered to the new plan we will be protected in case LaFollette should die or change his mind, as he has done so often. We can select an independent candidate later if we desire." Loud applause followed Mahoney's statement.

Mills in Fiery Speech

Delegate Mills of California, in a fiery speech, told the convention, "We can't win the working class by slapping LaFollette." He appealed to Taylor to withdraw his minority report.

"You will split this party," Mills shouted. "You communists can put over your program, but not with me."

C. E. Ruthenberg, communist leader, then told the convention that formation of a third party was the big object and that a candidate was trivial.

"We are not dealing in personalities," Ruthenberg said. "We are dealing with a movement."

"Mr. LaFollette has told us he did not know whether he would run for the presidency."

HOT FIGHT DEVELOPED ON CONVENTION FLOOR

Convention Hall, St. Paul, June 19.—A hot fight developed between communist and farmer-labor forces on the floor of the "third party" convention here today.

Just when a break seemed coming Chairman Taylor automatically adjourned the convention without bringing the matter to a vote. A final report will be taken up later in the day.

A report of the majority of the nominations committee favored ignoring the candidacy of LaFollette and permitting the new national committee of the party to select a candidate for president and vice-president.

A substitute was offered by the communists which would ask LaFollette to run again as the candidate of the party on the communist party platform. In speeches the communists denounced LaFollette.

A minority report pledging the convention toward favoring the candidacy of Robert M. LaFollette, without asking him anything about it was presented.

The question was not finally determined. The first report was greeted with applause but adoption was reconsidered after the other two proposals were advanced.

C. A. Ruthenberg, communist leader, lead the denunciatory attack upon LaFollette.

More party caucuses of the various factions were held in an effort to prevent the threatened rupture.

STORMS SWEEP NORTH DAKOTA AND MINNESOTA

GREATEST INTENSITY AT DICKINSON, WESTERN NORTH DAKOTA

2 KILLED, 21 INJURED, SCORES OF BUILDINGS WERE WRECKED

(By United Press)
St. Paul, June 19.—Two were killed in North Dakota and inestimable property damage was done by a storm which swept across North Dakota and Minnesota last night.

Originating in Montana, the storm swept eastward, reaching its greatest intensity at Dickinson in western North Dakota, where two were killed, 21 injured and scores of buildings were wrecked at Dickinson and Eland.

A cloudburst which accompanied the 90-mile wind washed out railroad embankments and highways, blocking traffic westward on the coast line of the Northern Pacific and stopping the Soo Line traffic north of Bismarck.

Almost every building in Dickinson suffered damage. A camp of 400 at the Chautauqua grounds was drowned out by the torrent of rain. Two were injured when a tent collapsed.

Joe Froelich, farmer, and John Freed, a dray line owner, were killed at Dickinson when a shed collapsed on them. Froelich leaves a widow and eight children. Freed was recently married.

Five members of the family of William Outkay were injured at Dickinson, his wife seriously.

Florence Sorenson and Mrs. Fred Schrimps were injured at the Chautauqua grounds when tent poles collapsed on them.

Ten tourist parties in the tourist camp at Dickinson were exposed to the storm when their tents collapsed on them and many of their belongings were carried away. The Elks building, a drug store, the Northern Pacific depot and many other buildings in Dickinson were unroofed. The sun porch of the hospital was demolished.

At Dunn Center, Dunn county, buildings were demolished. Eland also suffered heavy damage.

Damage was reported all along the Northern Pacific line from Fargo to Glendive, Montana.

NO STORM DAMAGE AT BRAINERD LAST NIGHT

Braierd experienced no storm damage last night. A northwest wind accompanied a rainfall of 0.35 inch. Rain started to fall about 6 p. m.

POISON GAS FAILS TO BREAK THE FILIBUSTER

DEADLOCK ON THE RHODE ISLAND STATE SENATE

Providence, R. I., June 19.—What is believed to have been poison gas was used today in an attempt to break the filibuster in the Rhode Island state senate which has been in continuous session since 2 p. m. Tuesday.

The deadlock is due to democratic insistence that republican members vote on a constitutional convention before the annual appropriation bill is passed and the senate adjourns. The chair refuses to recognize the republicans.

NEW NATIONAL FARMER-LABOR THIRD PARTY

SET GOING WITH COMMUNISTS IN POSITION OF POWER

PARTY AVOIDS ENDORSING SENATOR LA FOLLETTE

Convention Hall, St. Paul, June 19.—The national farmer-labor third party convention, in its closing session, today avoided endorsement of Senator Robert M. LaFollette as a presidential candidate.

A majority report from the nominations committee leaving the question of a presidential and vice-presidential candidate to the national committee was adopted by an overwhelming majority after a brief but spirited fight.

Farmer-labor delegates joined with communists for adoption of that plan.

"We can swing behind LaFollette later if he runs," William Mahoney, farmer-labor leader who previously had fought for endorsement of LaFollette, declared. "Why should we invite him to slap us in the face again?"

"He doesn't want our endorsement and he should not have it," declared Morris Fromme of Wisconsin, representing communist sentiment, told the convention.

Judging from the applause, those who were out for endorsement of LaFollette were in a small minority.

A minority report was presented by delegate Taylor of Kansas, declaring "we favor LaFollette for the presidency." This was greeted with silence and Taylor said: "I suppose you will rip me up the back."

When Taylor read the report a delegate from Kansas jumped to his feet and shouted, "Why don't you consult the workers' delegates in the Kansas delegation before you make a report like that?"

"I consulted the farmers in the delegation and I don't take orders from you," Taylor hurled back.

LaFollette was ripped up and down the back by communist speakers.

LaFollette Only Interested in LaFollette

Ben Gitlow, New York representative of the Federated farmer-labor party—a communist organization—declared during the debate that "LaFollette is not interested in the workers of this country—he is interested only in Senator LaFollette."

This was met by wild applause from delegates.

"Who was it played into the hands of the plunderbands of Wall Street?" Gitlow shouted. "Who was it who deserted workers and permitted exploitation of their earnings? It was Senator LaFollette."

Delegate Stanley Clark of Missouri introduced a substitute for both reports asking LaFollette to run as the candidate of the party and on the platform with the communist principles adopted last night.

"LaFollette wants to dominate the workers," Gitlow declared, concerning the Clark proposal. "Make him take our platform if he wants our support. Make him our servant and not our leader."

Mahoney in explanation of his position, declared "We don't want to do anything to embarrass him or us. If we endorse him we have been in-

Mills in Fiery Speech

Delegate Mills of California, in a fiery speech, told the convention, "We can't win the working class by slapping LaFollette." He appealed to Taylor to withdraw his minority report.

"You will split this party," Mills shouted. "You communists can put over your program, but not with me." C. E. Ruthenberg, communist leader, then told the convention that formation of a third party was the big object and that a candidate was trivial.

"We are not dealing in personalities," Ruthenberg said. "We are dealing with a movement. 'Mr. LaFollette has told us he did not know whether he would run for the presidency.'"

HOT FIGHT DEVELOPED ON CONVENTION FLOOR

Convention Hall, St. Paul, June 19.—A hot fight developed between communist and farmer-labor forces on the floor of the "third party" convention here today.

Just when a break seemed coming Chairman Taylor automatically adjourned the convention without bringing the matter to a vote. A final report will be taken up later in the day.

A report of the majority of the nominations committee favored ignoring the candidacy of LaFollette and permitting the new national committee of the party to select a candidate for president and vice-president.

A substitute was offered by the communists which would ask LaFollette to run again as the candidate of the party on the communist party platform. In speeches the communists denounced LaFollette.

A minority report pledging the convention toward favoring the candidacy of Robert M. LaFollette, without asking him anything about it was presented.

The question was not finally determined. The first report was greeted with applause but adoption was reconsidered after the other two proposals were advanced.

C. A. Ruthenberg, communist leader, lead the denunciatory attack upon LaFollette.

More party caucuses of the various factions were held in an effort to prevent the threatened rupture.

NATION-WIDE POSTAL STRIKE THREATENS CANADIAN DOMINION

STORMS SWEEP NORTH DAKOTA AND MINNESOTA

GREATEST INTENSITY AT DICKINSON, WESTERN NORTH DAKOTA

2 KILLED, 21 INJURED, SCORES OF BUILDINGS WERE WRECKED

(By United Press)
St. Paul, June 19.—Two were killed in North Dakota and inestimable property damage was done by a storm which swept across North Dakota and Minnesota last night.

Originating in Montana, the storm swept eastward, reaching its greatest intensity at Dickinson in western North Dakota, where two were killed, 21 injured and scores of buildings were wrecked at Dickinson and Eland.

A cloudburst which accompanied the 90-mile wind washed out railroad embankments and highways, blocking traffic westward on the coast line of the Northern Pacific and stopping the Soo Line traffic north of Bismarck.

Almost every building in Dickinson suffered damage. A camp of 400 at the Chautauqua grounds was drowned out by the torrent of rain. Two were injured when a tent collapsed.

Joe Froelich, farmer, and John Freed, a dray line owner, were killed at Dickinson when a shed collapsed on them. Froelich leaves a widow and eight children. Freed was recently married.

Five members of the family of William Outkay were injured at Dickinson, his wife seriously. Florence Sorenson and Mrs. Fred Schrimps were injured at the Chautauqua grounds when tent poles collapsed on them.

Ten tourist parties in the tourist camp at Dickinson were exposed to the storm when their tents collapsed on them and many of their belongings were carried away. The Elks building, a drug store, the Northern Pacific depot and many other buildings in Dickinson were unroofed. The sun porch of the hospital was demolished.

At Dunn Center, Dunn county, buildings were demolished. Eland also suffered heavy damage.

Damage was reported all along the Northern Pacific line from Fargo to Glendive, Montana.

NO STORM DAMAGE AT BRAINERD LAST NIGHT

Brainerd experienced no storm damage last night. A northwest wind accompanied a rainfall of 0.35 inch. Rain started to fall about 6 p. m.

HEADON SMASH ON SOUTHERN ROAD KILLS 3 TRAINMEN

(By United Press)
Nashville, Tenn., June 19.—In a headon collision today between a Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis passenger train and a work train, three trainmen were instantly killed and scores of passengers injured near Adairsville, Ga., according to reports here.

Both engines were wrecked and the first few coaches of the passenger train derailed.

THE NEW PARK THEATRE SCENE OF CHAUTAUQUA

MATINEE PERFORMANCE JUNE 24, 2:30 P. M.; SUCCEEDING 3 DAYS AT 3 P. M.

ALL EVENING PERFORMANCES JUNE 23 TO 27 START AT 7:45 P. M.

The advance sale of tickets, season tickets costing $2; the interest shown generally in Brainerd's Chautauqua season starting June 23, evening performance at the New Park Theatre and continuing to June 27, now gives every indication of one of the most successful Chautauquas in the history of Brainerd.

The local committee has made admirable selections of talent. There will be something to appeal to the tastes of all. The opening performance will be Monday evening, June 23, at 7:45 o'clock. All evening performances of June 23, 24, 25, 26 and 27 are set at 7:45 o'clock.

Four afternoon programs will be given, the first on June 24 being set at 2:30 o'clock. The succeeding three will start at 3 p. m.

It behooves every family to buy season tickets at $2, as a great saving can be effected. Single performances will be charged at 50c each for adults, 25c for children.

Here is the program in detail:

Monday, June 23—Evening
7:45. Opening program—"The Wonders of Electricity"—Louis Williams, electrical entertainer.

Tuesday, June 24—Afternoon

8:45. "Just Among Ourselves"—Strickland Gillilan—Humorist and philosopher.

LONDON NEWSPAPERS FEAR SERIOUS EMPIRE SITUATION

London, June 19.—The morning newspapers generally concede the defeat of Gen. Smuts and the government party in the South African elections and see the possibility of a serious situation for the empire.

The Capetown correspondent of the Daily Herald says that a Labor-Nationalist government probably will be formed as these parties working together will have a substantial majority in the new South African parliament.

Campaign Paper Made

No Money for Greeley

In 1840, when Gen. William Henry Harrison was nominated for the presidency against Martin Van Buren, Horace Greeley started a little campaign paper in New York city, which he called the Log Cabin, which is said to have been incomparably the most spirited thing of the kind ever printed in the United States, says the Detroit News. It had a circulation of unprecedented extent, beginning with 48,000 and rising week after week until it reached 90,000.

The price, however, was so low that its great sale proved rather an embarrassment than a benefit to the proprietors and when the campaign ended the firm of Horace Greeley & Co. was rather more in debt than it was when the first number of the Log Cabin was published. The last number of the Log Cabin announced the forthcoming Tribune, price 1 cent, which was a short time ago consolidated with the New York Herald.

Five thousand copies of the first number of the Tribune were printed, and Greeley found it difficult to give them away. He began with a subscription list of 600. But the little paper soon caught public attention and began its fourth week with 6,000 paid subscribers.

"You'll Do Better at Hall's"

We educate ourselves when we teach our children. So, when we afford them to the opportunity of learning music, we, too, learn balance, proportion, poise, harmony, beauty—the five things that solve the riddles that, unanswered, make the job of living a tiresome thing. . . . The master-key to all of them is a truly good player-piano—such as the Hobart M. Cable Player-Piano, which Hall's will sell you for as little as $675, on a plan of payments so comfortable that you'll find the owning not only delightful, but easy as well.

Come in, and see and hear it. Play it yourself. Then let's talk it over.

Her Own Hair

George's wife found a blonde hair on the lapel of his coat. In a fit of jealousy she demanded explanations. "You see, my dear, that is last year's coat," said George, "and if you remember correctly your hair was blonde then instead of brown. I didn't change the color of your hair, did I?" Wife was so taken back she forgot George had worn that same coat four times since her curls resumed their natural shade.—Better Busses.

Queer Villages

Tucked away in odd corners of Great Britain are some villages with peculiar names. In Kent we find Painter's Forest, Dripping Gore, and Old Wives Lees. The last place derived its strange name from the fact that old women of the district used to run an annual race there for prizes offered by the local lord of the manor. Dripping Gore was so called because the Danes and Saxons are believed to have fought a battle at this spot.

MOTORISTS LEAVING CURB
MUST SIGNAL WITH HAND

St. Paul, June 19.—Motorists must signal when leaving the curb to enter the main stream of traffic on and after Saturday.

Councilmen today adopted the ordinance requiring drivers of parked vehicles to signal with a downward motion of the hand when leaving the curb.

Cars parked at the curb may not leave while a streetcar is passing alongside.

RADIO FOR TRAIN DISPATCHING

THE other day papers reported the Pennsylvania road as experimenting with radio for train dispatching. If static and other interference can be successfully combatted, so that service can be rendered at all times, the use of radio will accomplish wonders. Imagine what the dispatcher will be able to do. As things are now constituted, the dispatcher, with his knowledge of road-bed, weather conditions and train service, routes trains on a schedule he believes will average results. He cannot be omniscient. He cannot tell what accidents may occur, etc.

With radio he can start out a heavy freight up the M. & I., for instance. By the time the train is ten miles out, the conductor of the freight, for instance, can radio "Dutch" Strout, or Ambrose McGarry, that he has his waybills all sorted out and that he will stop about five minutes at Nisswa, 15 minutes at Pequot, 20 minutes at Pine River, etc., to discharge freight. That gives the train dispatcher a line on the progress of the train and he can handle the train accordingly.

Or, for instance, freight train No. 50 and so, working hard when it went out of Brainerd and so signaled by the engineer, may have unlimbered when it worked the first curve out of Brainerd. The engineer, instead of having a train which did not seem to roll good or promise fast time, could then radio back, "She's running good." It would alter the time sheet schedule.

The engineer's cab would carry a radio set and so would the caboose. The train would be in constant communication with the dispatcher while traveling or at rest.

And in case of accident. Look at the advantage gained. A second section, flying on a ten minute leave on the tail of No. 1, could radio ahead, or No. 1 could tell the second section any trouble experienced. It would reduce to a minimum any chance of sections telescoping. In case of trouble, the first section could radio to the second and get results quicker than by shooting out a flagman.

Accidents, such as breaking airhose, happen at unexpected times. Hot boxes develop. Broken rails or warped trackage is often encountered. There may be landslides or snow blockades. Radio would enable any train crew to promptly radio the dispatcher. In case of a wreck, the wrecker would be notified instantly, would steam out in fast time and reports on clearing away wreckage and rebuilding track would be radioed immediately.

And look at the callboy! Radio would get a train crew man no matter where a man was located. It would find him at his home, or at the hotel or boarding house, or out fishing or playing rummy.

In fact, radio when developed to the point where it will insure satisfactory service, opens up such a vista, such a wonderful opportunity to make railroading safe, to make it successful in time service, that its value cannot be estimated in dollars and cents.

It would do away with choked train yards, it would keep freight and passengers moving, it would eliminate blockades of all kinds, it would get 100 per cent service out of equipment, it would let the train dispatcher have a keen, intimate knowledge of actual conditions at all times. It would really bring about the millennium in the railroad world.

With such a map of service spread before an inventor, one wonders why all the inventive genius of America, all the amateur radio artists as well as the Marconi's cannot kick the static out of the ether and get the radio to operating free and independent of all weather conditions. We prophesy that radio train dispatching will be made successful in the future and herald such an attainment as one of the greatest contributions to the century's achievements.

RE-ELECTION OF HAROLD KNUTSON ASSURED

SUCH a tremendous vote was polled by Harold Knutson, congressman of the sixth district, in Monday's primary election, in some precincts his total exceeding that of all of his opponents, that there is now every assurance that he will be re-elected to represent this district. The vote may be considered a tribute to what the congressman has done for this district in the past and it surely stamps itself as a complete vindication by the people of this district who know him best.

He carried every county in the district except Sherbourne county, by a larger majority than at the last general election. Sherbourne county, the home county of George Tyler, accorded its majority to that popular attorney. With Tyler eliminated in the primary, and an era of good feeling prevailing in Sherbourne county, it may safely be considered that Sherbourne county will transfer its strength to Knutson in the final election in November.

Crow Wing county made a handsome showing for Knutson and gave him a large majority. He carried practically every precinct in the county.

All the opponents of Knutson were strong men, men who had accomplished things and were towers of strength in their respective localities. They included besides Tyler, Smith a county superintendent of schools and Magnuson of St. Cloud, prominent as a former mayor and in civic affairs in St. Cloud.

FISH WHERE THE FISH ARE

IRVIN COBB, fishing in some lake not in the Brainerd Lake Region, sends out a story not on how many fish he hooked, but describes being bitten once by a bass while disengaging the hook from the latter's mouth. These are only ordinary experiences which fall to the lot of every fisherman.

If Irvin wanted real sport, he should have been with the party headed by James F. Gould, state game and fish commissioner, which made Lake Edward near Brainerd, the scene of their fishing exploits on the opening of the bass season.

More than 40 bass fell to the party early in the morning and a large number were returned to the water during the afternoon. They did some real fishing, were expert anglers and from the amount of the catch shown, had no time to diagnose the feelings of any one bass hooked. We sincerely believe that Irvin Cobb should have been in Gould's party where he would have gotten a taste of real sport, and not in homeopathic doses either.

THE Chautauqua season in Brainerd opens June 23 with the evening performance staged at 7:45 o'clock. The New Park theatre will be the scene of the presentation of the course. That it will be successful is assured by the growing interest taken in the purchase of season tickets.

What Is a Kiwi?

Visitors at an aviation field heard an officer refer to "Kiwis" (pronounced keewees) and found on inquiry that it applied to young aviators who had not won their certificates as pilots. The term "Kiwi" is now almost universally adopted to indicate the aviator who can't fly. The Kiwi is the wingless bird of New Zealand, and is practically a miniature man, that giant bird now extinct.

RADIO FOR TRAIN DISPATCHING

THE other day papers reported the Pennsylvania road as experimenting with radio for train dispatching. If static and other interference can be successfully combatted, so that service can be rendered at all times, the use of radio will accomplish wonders.

Imagine what the dispatcher will be able to do. As things are now constituted, the dispatcher, with his knowledge of road-bed, weather conditions and train service, routes trains on a schedule he believes will average results. He cannot be omniscient. He cannot tell what accidents may occur, etc.

With radio he can start out a heavy freight up the M. & I., for instance. By the time the train is ten miles out, the conductor of the freight, for instance, can radio "Dutch" Strout, or Ambrose McGarry, that he has his waybills all sorted out and that he will stop about five minutes at Nisswa, 15 minutes at Pequot, 20 minutes at Pine River, etc., to discharge freight. That gives the train dispatcher a line on the progress of the train and he can handle the train accordingly.

Or, for instance, freight train No. 80 and so, working hard when it went out of Brainerd and so signaled by the engineer, may have unlimbered when it worked the first curve out of Brainerd. The engineer, instead of having a train which did not seem to roll good or promise fast time, could then radio back, "She's running good." It would alter the time sheet schedule.

The engineer's cab would carry a radio set and so would the caboose. The train would be in constant communication with the dispatcher while traveling or at rest.

And in case of accident. Look at the advantage gained. A second section, flying on a ten minute leave on the tail of No. 1, could radio ahead, or No. 1 could tell the second section any trouble experienced. It would reduce to a minimum any chance of sections telescoping. In case of trouble, the first section could radio to the second and get results quicker than by shooting out a flagman.

Accidents, such as breaking airhose, happen at unexpected times. Hot boxes develop. Broken rails or warped trackage is often encountered. There may be landslides or snow blockades. Radio would enable any train crew to promptly radio the dispatcher. In case of a wreck, the wrecker would be notified instantly, would steam out in fast time and reports on clearing away wreckage and rebuilding track would be radioed immediately.

And look at the callboy! Radio would get a train crew man no matter where a man was located. It would find him at his home, or at the hotel or boarding house, or out fishing or playing rummy.

In fact, radio when developed to the point where it will insure satisfactory service, opens up such a vista, such a wonderful opportunity to make railroading safe, to make it successful in time service, that its value cannot be estimated in dollars and cents.

It would do away with choked train yards, it would keep freight and passengers moving, it would eliminate blockades of all kinds, it would get 100 per cent service out of equipment, it would let the train dispatcher have a keen, intimate knowledge of actual conditions at all times. It would really bring about the millennium in the railroad world.

With such a map of service spread before an inventor, one wonders why all the inventive genius of America, all the amateur radio artists as well as the Marconi's cannot kick the static out of the ether and get the radio to operating free and independent of all weather conditions. We prophesy that radio train dispatching will be made successful in the future and herald such an attainment as one of the greatest contributions to the century's achievements.

RE-ELECTION OF HAROLD KNUTSON ASSURED

SUCH a tremendous vote was polled by Harold Knutson, congressman of the sixth district, in Monday's primary election, in some precincts his total exceeding that of all of his opponents, that there is now every assurance that he will be re-elected to represent this district. The vote may be considered a tribute to what the congressman has done for this district in the past and it surely stamps itself as a complete vindication by the people of his district who know him best.

He carried every county in the district except Sherbourne county, by a larger majority than at the last general election. Sherbourne county, the home county of George Tyler, accorded its majority to that popular attorney. With Tyler eliminated in the primary, and an era of good feeling prevailing in Sherbourne county, it may safely be considered that Sherbourne county will transfer its strength to Knutson in the final election in November.

Crow Wing county made a handsome showing for Knutson and gave him a large majority. He carried practically every precinct in the county.

All the opponents of Knutson were strong men, men who had accomplished things and were towers of strength in their respective localities. They included besides Tyler, Smith a county superintendent of schools and Magnuson of St. Cloud, prominent as a former mayor and in civic affairs in St. Cloud.

FISH WHERE THE FISH ARE

IRVIN COBB, fishing in some lake not in the Brainerd Lake Region, sends out a story not on how many fish he hooked, but describes being bitten once by a bass while disengaging the hook from the latter's mouth. These are only ordinary experiences which fall to the lot of every fisherman.

If Irvin wanted real sport, he should have been with the party headed by James F. Gould, state game and fish commissioner, which made Lake Edward near Brainerd, the scene of their fishing exploits on the opening of the bass season.

More than 40 bass fell to the party early in the morning and a large number were returned to the water during the afternoon. They did some real fishing, were expert anglers and from the amount of the catch shown, had no time to diagnose the feelings of any one bass hooked. We sincerely believe that Irvin Cobb should have been in Gould's party where he would have gotten a taste of real sport, and not in homeopathic doses either.

THE Chautauqua season in Brainerd opens June 23 with the evening performance staged at 7:45 o'clock. The New Park theatre will be the scene of the presentation of the course. That it will be successful is assured by the growing interest taken in the purchase of season tickets.

What Is a Kiwi?

Visitors at an aviation field heard an officer refer to "Kiwis" (pronounced keewees) and found on inquiry that it applied to young aviators who had not won their certificates as pilots. The term "Kiwi" is now almost universally adopted to indicate the aviator who can't fly. The Kiwi is the wingless bird of New Zealand, and is practically a miniature moa, that giant bird now extinct.

AMERICAN ENGINEERS IN SESSION

(By United Press)
Pasadena, June 19.—The engineers are in town, to ponder the problems and enjoy the diversions of their fifty-fourth annual convention of the American Society of Civil Engineers, which opened here today and will end June 21.

About seven hundred delegates and guests from all parts of the country were present at Hotel Maryland this morning, when Franklin Thomas, president of the Los Angeles section, called the first session to order. Hiram W. Wadsworth, chairman of the Pasadena board of city directors, delivered the address of welcome.

President C. E. Grunsky of the Society responded to the greeting and then delivered his annual address. His speech, while it was addressed to a technical assembly, was universal in scope. It dealt with the engineer and his problems and his responsibility to the community and nation.

One of the notable programs of the convention will take place tomorrow. It will be devoted to the important Colorado River problem in a formal paper to be presented by Col. William Kelly, Engineer Corps, U. S. A., and chief engineer of the Federal Power Commission.

A discussion of that important issue will be opened by E. C. LaRue, hydraulic engineer of the United States Geological Survey. He will also show moving pictures made by him during his recent trip down the Colorado River.

The sanitary engineering division will hold its first session to hear a paper by Robert V. Orbison, city manager of South Pasadena. An important paper on the sanitation of the Los Angeles metropolitan district will be read by Willis T. Knowlton, engineer of sewers for Los Angeles, to be followed by a discussion participated in by George T. Hammond of Brooklyn, N. Y.; C. G. Hyde, professor of sanitary engineering at the University of California, and W. W. Horner, chief engineer of sewer and paving, St. Louis.

Royal W. Sorenson, professor of electrical engineering, California Institute of Technology, will present a paper before the Power Division on "Million-Volt Transformer in Relation to Power Transmission," and its discussion will be opened by Harold Michener, transmission engineer of the Southern California Edison Company.

The third simultaneous technical session for tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock, is that of the Highway Division. The other two sections to meet are the City Planning Division, with George A. Damon, consulting engineer and city planner, reading a paper on "The Influence of the Automobile on Regional Transportation Planning," and the Irrigation Division.

Following these technical meetings, the engineers and their guests will visit the Thomas H. Ince Studio at Culver City. The guests will be entertained by motion picture stars and will view the process of making motion pictures.

On Friday, the steamer Avalon will take the delegates to Catalina Island, where luncheon will be served at the Saint Catherine Hotel. A buffet dinner after the return will be served at the California Yacht Club in Los Angeles Harbor.

The Tri-City Sewage Disposal plant and farm will be inspected Saturday morning and then will follow a trip to Hyperion, the site of the Los Angeles outfall sewer screening plant. An alternative program for Saturday is a trip to San Diego with luncheon at San Juan Capistrano. The United States Naval establishment at San Diego and the San Diego water supply system will be visited on Sunday.

Monitor and Merrimac.

On May 15, 1862, in company with the Galena, the Naugatuck, Port Royal, and Arcootook, the Monitor participated in an unsuccessful attempt to capture Richmond, and on December 31, 1862, while en route to Beaufort, N. C., she foundered in stormy weather off Hatteras, four officers and seventeen men being drowned. The Merrimac was destroyed when the Norfolk yard was evacuated by the Confederates on May 11, 1862.

Sweet-Tooth Squirrel!

At Eppiz, N. H., Mrs. Blair and her pupils noted an interesting bit of natural history. A squirrel was seen playing in a sugar maple near the schoolhouse, and a closer inspection revealed the fact that he had gnawed the under side of a limb and, hanging on by his four feet, was sucking the sap that oozed out. He repeated this performance several times.

LIONS MEET AT BREEZY POINT

Mrs. W. H. Fawcett Turns Summer Resort Into a Lions Den

SPLENDID MENU PROVIDED

Lions Dine on Chicken and Steak Dinner, Attendance Campaign Celebrated

The hard rain that swept the northern portion of the county failed to dampen the ardor of the Brainerd Lions club, which organization made its annual pilgrimage to Breezy Point Lodge on Wednesday evening, where the attendance campaign banquet was held.

Mrs. W. H. Fawcett had prepared a very fine menu, with service that could not be excelled. The guests were given a choice of a chicken dinner or a steak menu for which Breezy Point Lodge is justly famous.

Following the excellent meal a program was staged. Mrs. Fawcett welcomed her roaring guests in a very cordial manner, stating that in behalf of her husband who is in Europe, she was turning Breezy Point from a summer resort to a Lions den for the evening, and wished the club to feel that it was to take full possession.

President Walter M. Murphy, in behalf of the club responded to Mrs. Fawcett's welcome and voiced the appreciation of the Lions for the hostess' many courtesies.

Musical numbers were furnished by A. C. Mraz, Dr. G. I. Badeaux, D. H. Fullerton and the Lions quartette. Mitzie's orchestra was engaged by the club to play during the meal and for the singing.

The banquet celebrated the victory of I. C. Strout's team over that of R. L. Geist's, in an attendance campaign. The losing team furnished the meal and the entertainment, and saw to the transportation arrangements.

The losers wore a white badge showing that they had been defeated, the badge being attached to the coat lapel with black crepe. The winning team wore badges of the purple and gold, the Lion's colors, stamped with the word "Winners." This team had the honor place at the banquet and the wishes of its members were carried out by the losers.

C. C. Davis, a new member, was officially initiated into the den.

IN MUNICIPAL COURT

Cases Heard by Judge J. H. Warner Included One of Improper Diversion

Thursday morning in municipal court, E. H. Westfall was tried, the case lasting about two hours. Westfall was charged with improper diversion upon a public street, in that he stopped and annoyed several ladies on Front street, between seventh and Broadway, about 10:15 o'clock on the evening of June 3rd.

The ladies making the charge, the officers and Mr. Westfall were examined as witnesses. The judge after reviewing the case, found the defendant not guilty.

J. S. Engbretson and Dewey Parr, who stated that his real name is Pat Devlin, were arraigned on a charge of manufacturing liquor, and their case was continued until Friday morning, June 20th.

J. E. Kelly plead guilty to a charge of intoxication, and was fined ten dollars or ten days in the city jail.

GIVEN HONORED POSITION

County Highway Engineer Murphy Named Chairman Highway Section of Association

C. L. Motl, former county highway engineer of Crow Wing county, and now president of the Minnesota Surveyors and Engineers Society, has just appointed County Highway Engineer Walter M. Murphy as chairman of the highway section of the association.

In a letter to Mr. Murphy announcing the appointment, Mr. Motl states that the selection of the members of the committee, usually from three to five men, is left to the chairman's choice.

This committee has the preparation of the day's program devoted to highways, at the annual meeting of the society held in February.

OTHER PEOPLES' OPINIONS

Asks Public to Aid Boys Band

Dear Editor:
While I think it very fitting and proper for the people of Brainerd to have a drive for the Boy Scouts, I don't see why something can't be done to help the Boys' band. It's enough for the parents to furnish instruments and pay for lessons and as long as it is such a help to the boys' education as well as a boost for Brainerd, I think the public should be more willing to help.

The boys are giving a concert at Lam park tonight and would like to have the public attend.

Deprecates Practice of Boys Shooting at Birds

To Editor of Dispatch:
Is it lawful for youngsters to shoot firecrackers until midnight? I notice boys are using an arrow such as the Indians use to shoot with. I picked up six spears one day in my garden, all used in shooting at something. They also use slingshots and have been shooting at robins. One day I noticed two robins had been killed.

Is that lawful? What will become of our younger generation that has so little respect for the bird life of our city. I hope some one will put a stop to the killing of bird songsters.

Respectfully,
HENRY LANGE,
N. E. Brainerd.

McCrea-Freeberg

Before an embankment of ferns and bridal wreath and beneath a large white floral bell Miss Vera Harriet McCrea, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William McCrea of Sauk Rapids, and Mr. Herbert G. Freeberg, of Cleveland, Ohio, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Freeberg of East St. Cloud exchanged nuptial vows at five-thirty Tuesday afternoon. The ceremony took place at the home of the bride's parents, made beautiful with a profusion of the season's choicest blossoms. Rev. A. A. Olson of the Swedish Mission church read the service.

Miss Alma Carison of East St. Cloud played the wedding march—the Bridal chorus from Lohengrin. Miss Ruth Carison of Fergus Falls sang "Beloved, It Is Morn," and "Because."

Miss McCrea wore a gown of white georgette elaborated with Spanish lace. Her veil was arranged in a bandeau, caught with orange blossoms at either side of the head. Her flowers were a shower bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Herbert Sodergren, sister of the bride, and matron of honor, was dressed in peach colored crepe. She carried an arm bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley.

George Freeberg attended his brother as groomsmen.

In the dining room where a wedding dinner was served to relatives and immediate friends, large baskets of white flowers were artistically arranged. A white wedding cake with pink candles on either side, formed the table centerpiece.

Mr. and Mrs. Freeberg will go to Piney Ridge, near Brainerd, for their honeymoon after which they will go to Cleveland, Ohio, where Mr. Freeberg is connected with the Deleo Light company.

Out of town guests at the wedding were Miss Marie Adair of Brainerd; Miss Harriet Whitney of Anoka; Mrs. Irwin Flint and children, Robert and Janet of Fargo; William McCrea of Fort Snelling, and Herbert Sodergren of Chicago.

Miss McCrea, a graduate of the Sauk Rapids high school and the St. Cloud Teachers College, has for the past year been a member of the Washington school faculty and has in this city an unusually large number of friends—St. Cloud Journal-Press.

Miss McCrea taught in the Brainerd schools for a number of years, and has many friends here who will be interested to learn of her marriage.

M. J. Margaret Preston, Widow of P. H. Preston, Buried in Brainerd

Mrs. Margaret Preston, widow of P. H. Preston, passed away Monday afternoon in Proctor, Minnesota, after a lingering illness. The remains were brought to Brainerd Thursday morning, and the funeral held from the Presbyterian church Thursday afternoon, Rev. A. G. Patterson officiating. Interment was made in Evergreen cemetery beside her husband, the service at the grave being in charge of the local chapter of the Eastern Star.

Margaret Hamilton was born August 22nd, 1867. Her girlhood and much of her married life was spent in Brainerd. She was married to P. H. Preston who preceded his wife in death two and a half years ago. To this union were born six children, being Mrs. Taylor Byers, of Princeton, West Virginia, the Misses Myrtle, and Winifred Preston, of Proctor, E. H. Preston of Pasadena, California, Earl, of Proctor, and I. H. Preston, of Brainerd.

The family moved away from Brainerd about seventeen years ago, first living in Superior, Wisconsin, and later going to Proctor, where they have since made their home.

Mrs. Preston was a member of the Eastern Star and of the Lady Macabees, holding membership at Proctor in the former, and in Brainerd in the latter.

NEW OPEN CHAMP WON DESPITE STRAIN

By FRANK GETTY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, June 19.—A hippocket size "pro" is our new open golf champ. But what little Cyril Walker of Englewood, N. J., lacks in physique he makes up in gameness.

Few golfers ever achieved the open title under a mental handicap such as the diminutive star overcame.

One of a field of 84 crack professionals and amateurs who met in championship play over the long and difficult course at Oakland Hills in June, Walker drew a late starting time for the closing day's play.

As a result, throughout the entire nine holes of his final round, he was subjected to a handicap which has beaten many a famous golfer. He knew just what he had to beat.

Every time Walker was in trouble, he had to figure: "Jones is in with 300 and I've played so and so and if I miss this and take a par four on the next," etc., etc.

The gallery was counting, too, with every stroke.

But little Walker plugged right ahead. A day before the tournament started, few had figured him as a strong contender. At the end of the first day's play he was up with the leaders, but it wasn't until the end of his morning round on the closing day that New Jersey "pro" loomed up as the darkest of dark horses, threatening Bobby Jones' title.

Walker's last nine holes were played with consummate courage, but there was one shot that sticks out, and which will go down in golfing history.

The sixteenth hole at Oakland Hills is a terror. It was the bane of existence to a majority of the field this year, and at the bottom of the water hazard which traps many a second shot lies a ball of Walter Hagen's, marking the spot where Hagen cracked and threw away his chances.

No 16 is a nasty water hole, the hazard coming on the second shot. A long drive and a second shot equally long are necessary to effect a par four.

Walker had an advantage of one stroke over Jones at this point. Par golf would bring him in victor.

His drive was off to the right, badly placed. There was the green, with the treacherous water hazard intervening, a high wind whistling across the fairway. To the right of the green were some bunkers, to which Walker could play, chancing a five, and making of his stroke advantage, rather than risk six or seven from a sunken ball.

The new champion hesitated, fiddled with a mid-iron, then with a driving iron. Finally he set himself and played his shot straight for the pin. It soared over the yawning water and rolled, right up to the cup, stopping just eight feet short. Walker said never a word, sank the putt for a three and put the title in his pocket right then and there.

It is always a source of satisfaction to professionals when a "pro" takes the open title. It means so much money to him, a year's occupation as an exhibition player and other material advantages, whereas to an amateur it brings a little glory.

However, no amateur ever won the title twice in succession. Quinnet tried, Travers tried, Chick Evans tried. Jones, finishing second, came closer than any of them.

This was Walker's first title. He was 23rd in last year's open, with a card of 314. In the professional golfers' championship that year he was eliminated by Jim Barnes, 8 to 6, in the third round.

YALE ATHLETES WON BY THEIR TEAM WORK

Yale's victory in the 48th annual I. C. A. A. track and field championship this year was the reward of a well-rounded team, with one or two good men trying for places in every event.

For some years we have had the spectacle of California coming east with a few star field performers and walking off with the championship by virtue of a preponderance of first places.

This year, Yale won with only one first place. Little Billy Conines scored 5 points for the Blue with his record-breaking broad jump of 24 feet 8 inches. But what was even more significant, he then stepped out on the cinders and picked up two more points, finishing fourth in the hundred-yard dash.

This was the sort of thing Yale men were doing all afternoon at Harvard Stadium. The team George Connors sent to Cambridge made up in consistent trying what it lacked in outstanding stars. And for once consistent trying brought home the bacon in an I. C. A. A's championship.

Pennsylvania had the stars, sprint men who walked off with firsts in the 100 and 220, and the class of the pole vault entrants. But the Red and Blue lacked the balance of the Yale outfit and had to take second place.

Penn State sent only four men to Cambridge, and they came close to winning at that. Helfrich, their great middle-distance runner, won the quarters and took second in the half, while other state stars took the mile run and the huge hurdles. But the team finished fifth.

Stanford, best of the western aggregations, accounted for three firsts and a couple of seconds, but was third.

Against such showings as these, that of Yale, with her one first place, was a triumph of team work. The Eli athletes obtained two seconds, four thirds, a fourth and a fifth, just enough points to beat Penn by one point.

The performance of the Elis upset the calculations of leading athletic authorities. It even surprised Yale men. The Blue has been at the threshold of an intercollegiate championship many times, but some other outfit always sneaked in the way.

West Excels East

(From St. Paul Daily News)

Again the west triumphs over the east in athletics. In the Olympic team tryout finals the majority of the men finishing first and second were from the west.

The men shattering the records were usually from the middle west or west. Jackson Scholz was the outstanding hero, the bright meteor of the two days' meeting, setting a world's record in the 200-meter dash and equalling another. He was originally from the University of Missouri.

G. Taylor, Grinnell college, Grinnell, Ia., set a world's record in the 400-meter hurdles with Brookings, Iowa, second, also in record time.

Ray Baker, Illinois A. C., tied the American record for the 1,500 meters.

Bill Richardson, California, shaded the American record by stepping off the 800 meters in 1:53 3-5.

Tom Lieb, Illinois A. C., whose home is at Faribault, Minn., and who formerly attended the College of St. Thomas, bettered the Olympic record in the discus with a throw of 153 feet, 6 inches.

F. J. Johnson, Illinois, equaled the world's record for the 110 meter hurdles, topping the sticks in 14 4-5. Karl Anderson, Minnesota, also was credited with one heat in 14 8-10. Johnson's record may not be allowed officially, as he was favored, it is alleged, by a wind.

Charles Paddock, California, finished one heat in record time.

Lee Barnes, California high school lad; J. H. Brooker, Michigan; Ralph Spearow, Oregon, and W. Graham,

Kansas, all had the pole vault event tied up with all going 13 feet.

De Harte Hubbard, Michigan, surpassed Gourdin, formerly of Harvard, in the broad jump. Hubbard to do so did 25 feet 3-8 inch, which is also a record.

Clarence Houser, California, and Glenn Hartranft, California, stepped away with the shot put, the former doing but 7-8 of an inch less than 50 feet, while the latter did 49 feet 1-4 inch.

William Neufeldt, California, copied the javelin.

Yes, the west sure did show up the east in the Olympic finals.

To Blue Gun Barrels

This is supposed to be one of the most practical methods of rebubling a gun barrel without heat. The barrel is first thoroughly cleaned. Then nitric acid, one part, diluted with 10 parts of water is applied until a blue film is produced on the surface. The gun barrel is then washed with warm water, dried and wiped with linseed oil.

FEEL LIKE DIFFERENT PERSON IN 14 HOURS

Hurried and improper eating, nervous worry and lack of exercise clog intestines and weaken the Liver. Self Neglect and the use of "so called" mild stimulants aggravate this condition and make matters worse. The result is Self Poisoning; no longer can your liver do its work properly, and your health breaks down.

That's why you wake up dull and tired, tongue coated, bad taste, and offensive breath. That's why you often suffer from loss of appetite, bad digestion, gas on sour, weak stomach, constipation, and a general run-down, nervous condition of the whole system.

Make this test! Cleanse and tone your liver and bowels with Dr. Thacher's Liver & Blood Syrup. Put your stomach in condition; soothe your tired, overtaxed nerves; brace your blood coursing through your veins; feel like a different person in 14 hours, or less. You, too, will be satisfied, as others have, or no cost.

Dr. Thacher's is sold and recommended by Johnson's Pharmacy.

JUDE LEWIS TO PITCH SUNDAY IN ELKS TEAM

DOC STEINFELDT TO AGAIN STAR AT CENTER FIELD POSITION OF ELKS

LOCALS TO PLAY LITTLE SAUK TEAM AT LONG PRAIRIE FAIRGROUNDS

Baseball fans should not miss seeing the Brainerd Elks team battle the Little Sauk team at the Long Prairie fairgrounds next Sunday. It will be a battle royal. Jude Lewis will pitch for the Brainerd Elks and Doc Steinfeldt will again be seen in action at center field. Doc, by the way, played with the Conrads of St. Paul and other famous teams and has a world of experience in all the ins and outs of baseball. Baseball comes as easy to him as doing bridge-work or pulling molar.

The lineup of the Brainerd Elks as seen in action in their premier appearance at the Pequot fairgrounds on Elks picnic day, when they defeated Pequot 4 to 2, will be seen in action at Long Prairie. The Elks team will leave the Smraker pool room at 10 A. M. and arrive in Long Prairie in ample time for dinner and for exercise and batting practice before the big show starts at 3 P. M.

Fans can leave Brainerd at noon and arrive in time for the game. Drive to Little Falls, cross the river bridge to West Side and continue westward to Long Prairie. It's a good gravel road.

The Little Sauk Team

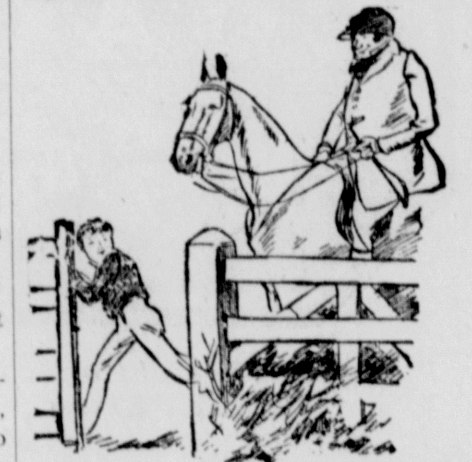

The Little Sauk team is not to be sneezed at. It's a real team with a lot of pep and action. L. H. Nelson, cashier of the Little Sauk State bank, writes this letter to the Brainerd Elks team manager:

"Our team is a strictly home country team, and one of the best teams in the country. Our pitcher, Mr. Stephan, is a former St. Thomas man, and the remainder of the team are farmer boys. We have played Bertha to a 4 to 3 score, their favor, and have won one from Browerville and lost one to them. We also played Battle Lake, 4 to 2, in our favor. We are playing Wadena, Park Rapids, Bertha, Alexandria and Staples on the remainder of our schedule.

"As per phone conversation, you are to have your choice of a 60-40 gate receipts, or a guarantee of $35, whichever amounts to the most.

MILLTOWNERS FORFEIT GAME

The Milltown team failed to put in an appearance for their game with the Pirates last night, and so forfeited the game. Efforts are under way to enter the N. P. shop team in the league.

Tonight the Y. M. C. A. plays the Tigers. The former has won one game, while the Tigers played a tie game with the Seals. The game tonight promises to be fast and interesting. Everybody invited to attend. Koering grounds, 6:15 P. M.

No Short Cut to Success

There is no easy road or short cut to success. It means constant hard work and saving, and many sacrifices. However, the ultimate satisfaction of having accomplished something or having succeeded is greater than all the so-called pleasures indulged in by the lazy man or the spendthrift.

SAGE AND SULPHUR DARKENS GRAY HAIR

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, at a small cost.

Don't stay gray. Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy and attractive.—Advt.

NEW OPEN CHAMP WON DESPITE STRAIN

By FRANK GETTY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
New York, June 19.—A hippocket size "pro" is our new open golf champ. But what little Cyril Walker of Englewood, N. J., lacks in physique he makes up in gameness.

Few golfers ever achieved the open title under a mental handicap such as the diminutive star overcame. One of a field of 84 crack professionals and amateurs who met in championship play over the long and difficult course at Oakland Hills in June, Walker drew a late starting time for the closing day's play.

As a result, throughout the entire nine holes of his final round, he was subjected to a handicap which has beaten many a famous golfer. He knew just what he had to beat.

Every time Walker was in trouble, he had to figure: "Jones is in with 300 and I've played so and so and if I miss this and take a par four on the next," etc., etc.

The gallery was counting, too, with every stroke. But little Walker plugged right ahead. A day before the tournament started, few had figured him as a strong contender. At the end of the first day's play he was up with the leaders, but it wasn't until the end of his morning round on the closing day that New Jersey "pro" loomed up as the darkest of dark horses, threatening Bobby Jones' title.

Walker's last nine holes were played with consummate courage, but there was one shot that sticks out, and which will go down in golfing history. The sixteenth hole at Oakland Hills is a terror. It was the bane of existence to a majority of the field this year, and at the bottom of the water hazard which traps many a second shot lies a ball of Walter Hagen's, marking the spot where Hagen cracked and threw away his chances.

No 16 is a nasty water hole, the hazard coming on the second shot. A long drive and a second shot equally long are necessary to effect a par four. Walker had an advantage of one stroke over Jones at this point. Par golf would bring him in victor.

His drive was off to the right, badly placed. There was the green, with the treacherous water hazard intervening, a high wind whistling across the fairway. To the right of the green were some bunkers, to which Walker could play, chancing a five, and making of his stroke advantage, rather than risk six or seven from a sunken ball.

The new champion hesitated, fiddled with a mid-iron, then with a driving iron. Finally he set himself and played his shot straight for the pin. It soared over the yawning water and rolled, right up to the cup, stopping just eight feet short. Walker said never a word, sank the putt for a three and put the title in his pocket right then and there.

It is always a source of satisfaction to professionals when a "pro" takes the open title. It means so much money to him, a year's occupation as an exhibition player and other material advantages, whereas to an amateur it brings a little glory.

However, no amateur ever won the title twice in succession. Ouimet tried, Travers tried, Chick Evans tried. Jones, finishing second, came closer than any of them.

This was Walker's first title. He was 23rd in last year's open, with a card of 314. In the professional golfers' championship that year he was eliminated by Jim Barnes, 8 to 6, in the third round.

YALE ATHLETES WON BY THEIR TEAM WORK
Yale's victory in the 48th annual I. C. A. A. A. track and field championship this year was the reward of a well-rounded team, with one or two good men trying for places in every event.

For some years we have had the spectacle of California coming east with a few star field performers and walking off with the championship by virtue of a preponderance of first places.

This year, Yale won with only one first place. Little Billy Conines scored 5 points for the Blue with his record-breaking broad jump of 24 feet 8 inches. But what was even more significant, he then stepped out on the cinders and picked up two more points, finishing fourth in the hundred-yard dash.

This was the sort of thing Yale men were doing all afternoon at Harvard Stadium. The team George Connors sent to Cambridge made up in consistent trying what it lacked in outstanding stars. And for once consistent trying brought home the bacon in an I. C. A. A. A. championship.

Pennsylvania had the stars, sprint men who walked off with firsts in the 100 and 220, and the class of the pole vault entrants. But the Red and Blue lacked the balance of the Yale outfit and had to take second place.

Penn State sent only four men to Cambridge, and they came close to winning at that. Helfrich, their great middle-distance runner, won the quarters and took second in the half, while other state stars took the mile run and the huge hurdles. But the team finished fifth.

Stanford, best of the western aggregations, accounted for three firsts and a couple of seconds, but was third.

Against such showings as these, that of Yale, with her one first place, was a triumph of team work. The Eli athletes obtained two seconds, four thirds, a fourth and a fifth, just enough points to beat Penn by one point.

The performance of the Elis upset the calculations of leading athletic authorities. It even surprised Yale men. The Blue has been at the threshold of an intercollegiate championship many times, but some other outfit always sneaked in the way.

West Excels East

(From St. Paul Daily News)

Again the west triumphs over the east in athletics. In the Olympic team tryout finals the majority of the men finishing first and second were from the west.

The men shattering the records were usually from the middle west or west. Jackson Scholz was the outstanding hero, the bright meteor of the two days' meeting, setting a world's record in the 200-meter dash and equalling another. He was originally from the University of Missouri.

G. Taylor, Grinnell college, Grinnell, Ia., set a world's record in the 400-meter hurdles with Brookings, Iowa, second, also in record time.

Ray Baker, Illinois A. C., tied the American record for the 1,500 meters.

Bill Richardson, California, shaded the American record by stepping off the 800 meters in 1:53 3-5.

Tom Lieb, Illinois A. C., whose home is at Faribault, Minn., and who formerly attended the College of St. Thomas, bettered the Olympic record in the discus with a throw of 153 feet, 6 inches.

F. J. Johnson, Illinois, equaled the world's record for the 110 meter hurdles, topping the sticks in 14 4-5. Karl Anderson, Minnesota, also was credited with one heat in 14 8-10. Johnson's record may not be allowed officially, as he was favored, it is alleged, by a wind.

Charles Paddock, California, finished one heat in record time.

Lee Barnes, California high school lad; J. H. Brooker, Michigan; Ralph Spearow, Oregon, and W. Graham,

Kansas, all had the pole vault event tied up with all going 13 feet.

De Harte Hubbard, Michigan, surpassed Gourdin, formerly of Harvard, in the broad jump. Hubbard to do so did 25 feet 3-8 inch, which is also a record.

Clarence Houser, California, and Glenn Hartranft, California, stepped away with the shot put, the former doing but 7-8 of an inch less than 50 feet, while the latter did 49 feet 1-4 inch.

William Neufeldt, California, copied the javelin.

Yes, the west sure did show up the east in the Olympic finals.
